FRESNO'S HANDSOME MEN!

First worthy of mention is B. T. Scott, the leading grocer. Many a mirror in Parker Lyon's furniture store has broken by his looking into it. He is 23 years old and was born at Milpitas, Oklahoma county, in 1843, his mother being present at the occasion. His most cuptivating look is when he smiles, for then he opens his mouth and if it was not for his ears the top of his head would be an island.

Another ismilar face is worn by R. M. Thomson, the man who caters to the bieyele cranks. Although a picture of healty he is a sufferer. At the age of eaven he had the numps on the left side and to avoid having it on the right he has taken half a gallon of Morreo's vermifuge dally for the past 17 years.

W. Parker Lyon would be good looking if it was not for his face, his early religious training having given it a serious look—a look that has often been mistaken for Berry's.

The sametry which is a sufficient reason for the deep interest that the public doubtless takes in the investigation of the less of the Oolina. And the result of the investigation thus far is not reassuring. Granted that the hurricane severe that no such beat as the Coling could have stood it, then why his utterances, we nevertheless belief n reason's name, in such a storm, were the atterage passengers forcibly pre-vented from securing life preservers? Why was their sole means of rescue forably withheld from them? To the ordinary landsman the sole answer to these questions will be apt to be found in the incapacity of the officers. That the vessel was improperly leaded and topheavy seems no longer to admit of a question. If the deck had not been oaded with tumber the Collma might withstood the storm, and certainly shifting of the lumber would not e closed the companionway, thus wning some scores of passengers like in a bole. There appears to have c loading so careless as to have been minal, as well as gross mismanage-nt on the part of the ship's officers. that mismanagement the officers that deepenalty, but the men who sponsible for the indifference to

We welcome the Democrat units new editorial management. It but the eyes behind the glasses are onite clear. The committee in charge of the cele-bration of the Fourth in this city have not yet raised quite enough money to bary the program through on the grand scale which it has outlined, and being scale which it has outlined, and being very anxious that the day shall be a memorable one in this valley, it asks for more contributions to its fund. The committee should be liberally supported in its patriotic undertaking. A rousing calebration will be a good thing for Preemo in many ways, and every citizen should feel a personal interest in maknould feel a personal interest in clonal holiday to pass by without recog inition, and we can well afford to make in extra effort this year, to make up for an extra effort this year, to make up for peat delinquency and to serve notice on the entaids world that Freeno is fully alive to her patriotic duties as well as those of her material wall-being. With a competing railroad and a grand elec-tric enterprise in plain sight, Freeno should feel liberal as well as particule. Let the small additional sum required by the committee be forthooming at

Apparently the Freeno School Board has reached the beginning of the end of the disgraculat high rettool muddle. The District Attorney last night ron-dered an opinion that the action of the former board in the contracts which it entered into with the owners of the Terry block is binding upon the present board, and the board promptly acted on board, and the board promptly acted on that opinion by rescinding its furmer action amudling those contracts. It no further flaws are found in the title to that property, the work of building a high school will now go forward.

The REPUBLIES heartily concurs. It has not been enthusiastically in favor of the Torry block as a location for the high school, and has made such protest as it becomed proper against the incom-as it doesned proper against the incom-probensible obstinacy of the forme board in clinging to the Terry block through weary and uscless months of wailing for a char tile to the property, for there were ather locations in plenty, just as good and just as cheap; but now that the legal advisor of the board has decided that the old board succeeded in Justening itself and the district to tha Terry block, we say amen to the prope eitien to go to work and build on the block just as soon as it can be deter mined that a perfect title can, he made

It was not good policy, of course, to buy a secondrate location for a high school when the district already owned a firstrate location, but it is a good deal better to have a high school on the Terry block than not to have it at all. Let the work begin at the earliest possible time.

MARK Twain says: "Behold the fool saith: 'Pat not all thine eggs in one basket,' which is but a manner of saying 'scatter your money and your attention,' but the wise man saith: 'Put all thine eggs in the one basket undwatch that basket.' Mark has land some experience which entitles him to speak as one having authority on this biect. He made a fortune by putting subject. He made a fortune up putting his literary egg into a basket and carry-ing them to market, but in no evil day he conceived the idea that he was not making all the money, but that his pub-lisher was getting something out of his work. So be concluded to out part of work. So be encettied to fine part of the part his eggs in the publishing business, and the result was that he not only failed to make the publishing business pay, but sunk most of his former earnings in tring to do so. It is not surprising that he is now a firm believer in the theory of putting the eggs in one basket.

Arthur McEwen's Letter is again

part of the yestordays, notice having been given in the last Issue that it will appear uo more, except, perhupe, occas-ionally. On the whole, we are sorry, for although McEwen frequently is too radical in his views and too extreme in that he save many things which should that he says many things which should be said and without him will remain unsaid. If anybody could have mada a success of such a sheet as the Letter McEwen would have been the man, but from the first the elements of life were not in it. The people desire opinions, only as a side dish to go with the substantial food of news.

THE readers of the REPUBLICAN WILL be interested in the letter,"As a Woman Sees It," from "L. C. D.," published on Sees II. Trom "A. B.," punished on another page of this paper. The writer, L. Olara Davis, has few, if any, super-iors among the women writers of the state. As a correspondent of the Stock-ton Mail, over the signature of "The ton Mail, over the signature of Muil's Girl," her work has attracted savorable attention and friendly com ment. She was the managing editor of the "woman's edition" of the Mail, and it was due especially to her efforts that that edition was recognized as the bar of the various women's papers recently published. Her letter is both thought

RANDOM REMARKS.

President Cleveland will begin his summer vacation next week, but the hands he has issued will keep right on at their business of bearing interest.

The school trustees of College Point, L.1., have decided that the women teachers of that place shall not ride since yeles. If they had decided at the sent time that nobedy deficient in ordinary sense should be a school trustee, how that beard would be thinned of members, would it not?

Now that McEwen's Letter has susponded, Ambresse Bierre, to whom, in his verbal gyrations, McEwen aladmistered a potent selditive, will, if we mistake not, he heard to buy the smoke of the fullen metear. Blotce attacked McEwen, and McEwen responded so vigoronsly that the Evaniur presimist's brief reply sounded like a wai for sympathy. In brief, McEwen all but's shut up'l lierce. But now the Letter is dead, McEwen is at a disadvantage, and, unless we err in our indigment, you shall see the brave lierce read from his hole and straightway invent rare combinations of words to hurt at his opponent's head. For this is Bierce's way—like the big bully of your youthat experience, he attacke only the small hops or those who are handleapped. Right valinatis ha in firing from his gatting gun at men who are atmed with shortgues or not at all, but when his adversary has also a satting gun, then you shall see him skulk, as in his encounter with McEwen and that it is seafe to do to, it will be because a blue pencil, where than he, crosses his path.

With your permission, young ladie nd gentlemen who took prominent part in the exercises in the Barton opera house last Friday ovening, I will have a little talk with you. You have gradu-nted; you have sat in "a semi-circle on the stage," arrayed in your very prettiest cowns or your newest suits of clothes and wondering when "that man will bu done talking;" you have your nice parchment diplomas, each tied with blue ribbon, and you know more than you ever will again. Yes, young paople, cherish this moment, for in it you have attained the culmination of earthly wis-cherish this moment, for in it you have attained the enhaination of earthly wisdom. You, and each of you, now know more than your pa—the poor old soul nover poseesed a diploma in his life. You know more than your ma—she never even thought of each a thing as having her learning certified to on a parchusent. You know more than you will ten or twenty years from now—oh, infinitely more.

Do not believe that I am laughing at you, young people, for I am sure that a very kindly regard and a very carnest lope for you are in my heart as I write. I admire your faith in yourselves. It is apporth. To be sure, the world will knock 95 par cent of it out of you, hut yo much the better that you have large stock to begin with. I like your colossa, the it is a good thing when youth lays its hand upon its untried sinews, and says, "Beloid, here is strength to be and to overcome." What I was about to remark is that some women are curious creatures, an is illustrated in the person of Mrs. Culp. Hell may, indeed, have no fury like a woman scorned, but why should wen a hadean tury fall to have a little "horse some?" Why should Mrs. Culp, who not improbably has just cause of resentment against her alleged paramour, that fond bridgeroom, E. F. Cale, insist on running her bead into a noce formed of the nices when they can be proved that she and Gate were legally married—what then? According to her own statement, she will merely denonstruct that she has bigamist, and the law does not look benignantly on bigarny. She would belter be enim. Of course it looks much us if Gate had played the rascal with a success that demonstrates his native adaptability to the role, but i um afraid that Mrs. Culp has been a very, very foolish woman.

It is a pleasant thought that moboly was injured when that young lady shot in two burglars the other night. Of course this is not intended to express gratitude that the burglars escaped, but when one remembers that a good many people live in that neighborhood, and that a young lady milled the trigger—heavens, what an escape! This is no reflection on the young woman's bravery, which is most commendable; it is merely a pean of praise that everybody is feeling well up in that neighborhood. Did you ever eve a beautiful mailed shut her eyes and fire a fun? You never did? Put on your hulletproof armor some day and watch the operation. It is quite interesting. It takes twice as much heroism for a woman to shoot, but she has to pick up the resonance of the proof of the

MICHARL BURNS IS AGAIN I TROUBLE.

His Meeting With Oliver Dahl Two Very Different

Stories.

Michael Burns, a resident of the foot nills, and who has land trouble again and again, is in trouble once more, this time with Oliver Dahl. He yesterday land Dahl arrested on a charge of as-snult with a deadly weapon, and in order to leave no doubt on the subject be brought the deadly weapons with him to leave no doubt on the subject he brought the deadty weapone with him as exhibited. They consisted of an armful of bricks, cloded that have an assumed the subject of the key and an armful of bricks, cloded that have an account and coulpols. As evidence that the implements of war and ambiguation had been vigorously applied, Burns showed a badly swollen wrist, everal lumps on his head, arms and legs, and other wounds. All the man and legs, and other wounds. All thems is a native of the Europedical Isle, and Mr. Dall halls from the floridited coast of Norway, and now lives in Scandinavian colony.

Same time ago he was a party to a civil suit and Burns was an important witness against him. Since that time there has been considerable ill feeling leaves the two.

Day before yesterday Burns was coming down with a load of wood from his house on Dry Creek and Dahl was returning home from town in his light spring wagon. From here the stories of the two differ. Burns says that when they met Dahl began shusing him verbally and firing bricks and clode at him. Dahl had evidently laid in a store if these missiles for emergancies, as he nicked them up from the bottom of the wagon. Burns says that they flow as theke and fast that he could not gut out of the way and was struck many times. After Dahl had bombarded him for soveral moments the former specks sharply to this brows and done way at full oped.

Rirns was several moments in locating all his hurts, and when he had done so, he made for a neighboring canal to bathe his wounds. He then came to bathe his wounds. Ito their came to Freeno.

Duly was arrested and brought before the justices yesterday, afternoon. His attery was entirely different from that total by Burns. Bull said he met Burns as he was in the lighter wagon he burned out that Burns night pass. Bull Burns grandled because he did not tora out far enough. Bull neker Burns if he wanted the whole road. This was all the alterestion there was. "He must have indicated those wounds on himself," said Daint in a thoughful manner; "I know I never indiched him." Dahl's buil was fixed at $250, which he furnished.

But in a newspaper office I notice the windows will get so dirty you can't tell whether it's a man or a dog coming up the stairs—and in truth the average newspaper man doesn't care whether it's a man or a dog; dogs are genorally preferred, especially if the oditor is writing his "leader." THE CONTRACT HOLDS

The Terry Block Must Be Bought.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OPINION

Few Changes to Be Made in the Corps of City Teachers Next Year.

The City Board of Education met last night to receive an opinion by the Dis-trict Attorney concerning the legality of the board's contract to purchase the Terry block for a site for the high school. The o, inion was written by Deputy District Attorney Franca, and contains District Attorney Prelian, a history of the negotiations carried on between the present and former boards and the agents of the Terry block. After sumning up the facts in the case, the opin m is given that the present board is bound by the contract intered into by the former board and the Tarry block agents, and must purchase the land, pro-agents, and must purchase the land, provided the agents can give a good are sufficient deed to it.

This opinion was read and placed file. Trustee Church mused that board go into axecutive seesion discuss the selection of tenders. The schools during act; year and gradient of the services performed, where the services performed at a fine for services performed. The properties of the land in the services performed at a fine for the services performed at a fine for the services performed. The properties of the land in question the longer than the former resolution of the board to abandon purchase of the land in question be resoluted, and that Chairman Eden he appointed a committee of one to examine the abstract of the title of the Terry block, and furnish it to the board's legal advisor for him to examine. This resolution was unsummously carried.

The board will meet again on Tues-mon This resolution was unanimously carried.

The board will meet again on Tuceday occuping, and farther action will but taken at that time.

The board then went into the executive cession, as moved by Trustee Church, and the subject of maxt year's teachers was given consideration. All regular reactors in grammar and primary grades were retained with the exception of Misses Nellie Gilmore and Mary E. Norton, who sent in their resignations. The vacancles were not interested to the subject of the high school, teachers and city superintendent nothing was done. Professor Heatonadvised that another teacher be secured for the high school, as there are no many pupils school, as there are no many pupils for the four teachers. Miss Florence Bartling, teacher of English, sent in her resignation. She has secured a similar position in the Berkeley high school fast bartling in the properties of the properties of the loss of hor services is to be regretted.
